Hello everybody! It's Teenagers Round the World Channel. Our guest today is a teenager from Russia, and we are going to discuss shopping. We'd like to know our guest's point of view on this issue. Please answer five questions. So, let's get started.

1 Do you like shopping? Why or why not?

I'm not a big fan of shopping unless I need something specific like new trainers or a winter coat. Window shopping feels like a waste of time to me because I'd rather cut to the chase and just buy what I came for.

2 Why do you think so many people enjoy the discounts?

People go crazy for discounts because everyone loves a bargain, and it gives them a sense of winning. Let's face it, seeing a red "50% off" sign is like music to most people's ears, even if they didn't plan to buy anything.

3 What are the main advantages and disadvantages of shopping online?

The main advantage is that you can shop around the clock and easily compare prices without leaving your sofa. However, the catch is that you can't try anything on, and what you see online isn't always what turns up at your door.

4 Who do you love shopping with? Why?

I love shopping with my best friend because she has a good eye for style and always gives me a second opinion. Two heads are better than one, so with her around I never make a rash decision that I'll regret later.

5 What are your favourite shops? Why do you like them?

My favourite shops are small local bookshops because nothing beats the smell of fresh paper and the quiet vibe. I also like second-hand stores where you can find a hidden gem, it's like going on a treasure hunt every single time.

Hello everybody! It's Teenagers Round the World Channel. Our guest today is a teenager from Russia, and we are going to discuss shopping. We'd like to know our guest's point of view on this issue. Please answer five questions. So, let's get started.

1 Do you prefer shopping in big shopping centres or small shops? Why?

I prefer small shops because you get more bang for your buck there, and the quality is often better than in huge malls. Big shopping centres are fine for killing time on a rainy day, but small shops have a cozy atmosphere that wins me over every time.

2 Do you usually plan your purchases or buy things spontaneously?

I usually stick to a list when it comes to important things like clothes or electronics, because I don't want to blow my budget. However, every now and then I buy something spontaneously, especially if it's a small treat like a book or a tasty snack.

3 What do you usually spend your money on?

I mostly spend my money on books, coffee with friends, and occasional clothes when my old ones fall apart. At the end of the day, I prefer spending money on experiences rather than things, because memories last a lifetime.

4 Do you think shopping can be a hobby? Why or why not?

Well, I think shopping can be a hobby if a person truly enjoys researching products and finding rare items. However, there's a fine line between a hobby and an addiction, so it's important to keep things in balance and not shop just because you're bored.

5 How often do you shop online? Why?

I shop online about once or twice a month, mostly for things like books or gadgets that are hard to find in local stores. The way I see it, online shopping saves me a lot of time, but at the same time, I try not to get carried away because it's easy to buy things I don't really need.

Hello everybody! It's Teenagers Round the World Channel. Our guest today is a teenager from Russia, and we are going to discuss ecology. We'd like to know our guest's point of view on this issue. Please answer five questions. So, let's get started.

1 What do you think of environmental problems? Are these important personally for you?

I think environmental problems are among the most serious issues humanity faces today, and they are dear to my heart because I want to live on a clean planet.

2 What do you think is the most dangerous environmental problem of our time? Why?

Well, climate change is the most dangerous environmental problem because it sets off a chain reaction of floods, droughts, and wildfires around the globe. If we don't nip it in the bud, future generations will pay the price for our mistakes.

3 Are there any ecological problems in the place where you live? What can you tell us about them?

Of course, we have a serious problem with air pollution from cars and factories in my city. Also, factories dump waste into local rivers, it breaks my heart to see that.

4 Are there any ecological activists groups in your region? What do they do?

Actually, we have a few volunteer groups that roll up their sleeves and organize clean-up events in parks. They also spread the word about recycling through social media and hold educational workshops in schools.

5 Do you agree that all of us should contribute to saving the planet? What can we do to help the environment?

I couldn't agree more that every single person should do something for the planet because many hands make light work. We can take small steps like using reusable bags, saving water and electricity, planting trees, and saying no to single-use plastic.

Hello everybody! It's Teenagers Round the World Channel. Our guest today is a teenager from Russia, and we are going to discuss environment. We'd like to know our guest's point of view on this issue. Please answer five questions. So, let's get started.

1 Do you try to live in an environmentally friendly way? How?

I try my best to walk the walk by using a reusable water bottle, turning off lights when I leave a room, and saying no to single-use plastic whenever possible. Also, I've started taking shorter showers and carrying a fabric bag to the supermarket.

2 Do you think recycling is important? Why or why not?

Absolutely, I think recycling is important because it reduces the amount of waste in landfills and saves natural resources like trees and water. To put it simply, if we don't recycle, we'll run out of space for our garbage.

3 Do you think governments do enough to solve environmental problems? Why?

I don't think governments do enough because they often turn a blind eye to pollution to save money. At the end of the day, many politicians care more about profit than about the planet, and that's a real shame.

4 How can schools help students become more eco-friendly?

Schools can lead by example by installing recycling bins, organizing tree-planting days, and cutting down on plastic in the canteen. They can also drive the message home through eco-clubs.

5 Why do some people ignore environmental issues?

Some people ignore environmental issues because they have other things to care about. Others do that because changing their habits feels inconvenient.

Hello everybody! It's Teenagers Round the World Channel. Our guest today is a teenager from Russia, and we are going to discuss travelling around Russia. We'd like to know our guest's point of view on this issue. Please answer five questions. So, let's get started.

1 What is the best way of travelling around Russia?

The best way to travel around Russia is by train, especially on the Trans-Siberian Railway, because you can take in the stunning scenery.

2 What is your most memorable trip around Russia? Why has it made such a big impression on you?

My most memorable trip was to Lake Baikal because nothing beats seeing the clearest, deepest lake in the world with your own eyes. It left a lasting impression on me because I walked on the frozen ice in winter.

3 What places in Russia do you think are worth visiting? Why?

I think the Golden Ring cities like Suzdal and Vladimir are worth a visit because they are steeped in history and look like something out of a fairy tale. Also, Kamchatka with its volcanoes and bears is a hidden gem that takes your breath away.

4 What problems can people have when they travel?

When travelling, people can run into problems like lost luggage, delayed flights, or language barriers. Another common issue is running out of money or getting sick far from home, which can turn a trip into a nightmare if you're not prepared.

5 Why is it important for teenagers to travel around their country?

It's important for teenagers to travel around their country because travel broadens the horizons and helps them understand how diverse and beautiful Russia really is. Seeing new places teaches to appreciate your own homeland inside and out.

Hello everybody! It's Teenagers Round the World Channel. Our guest today is a teenager from Russia, and we are going to discuss travelling. We'd like to know our guest's point of view on this issue. Please answer five questions. So, let's get started.

1 What is more important when travelling: comfort or price? Why?

It all depends on the trip, but for me, comfort usually wins because a sleepless night on a cheap bus can ruin my whole day.

2 Do you prefer travelling in Russia or abroad? Why?

I prefer travelling abroad because I like experiencing different cultures, and trying new food. Of course, Russia is beautiful, but going abroad broadens my horizons in a way that staying home just can't match.

3 What problems can tourists face in big cities?

Tourists in big cities can fall victim to pickpockets, especially in crowded places like subways or famous landmarks. They might also get ripped off by taxi drivers or souvenir sellers.

4 How can travelling help people learn new things?

Well, travelling helps people learn new things because nothing beats seeing history, art, and nature up close and personal instead of just reading about them in books.

5 Would you like to travel in the future? Where and why?

Actually, I would like to go to Japan one day because I'm crazy about Japanese food, technology, and ancient temples. Going there would be a dream come true, and I want to see Mount Fuji and Tokyo with my own eyes.
