9.3. Procedure of calculating the income (yield) payable under each bond.

The amount of the income or order of its determination, including the size of the income paid under each coupon, or its determination procedure.

The income under the Exchange-traded Bonds is the sum of the coupon yields charged for each coupon period in the form of a percentage of the face value of the Exchange-traded Bonds and payable on the expiration date of the respective coupon period.

The Exchange-traded Bonds have 6 (Six) coupon periods.

Duration of each coupon period is established equal to 182 (one hundred and eighty two) days.

The starting date of each coupon period is determined by the formula:

*$SDP + 182 * (i-1)$, where*

SDP – start date of placing of the Exchange-traded Bonds, established in accordance with item 8.2 of the Program and Terms of the issue;

i - the identification number of the corresponding coupon period (i=1,2,3...6);

FDCP(i) - final date of i-coupon period.

The final date of each coupon period is determined by the formula:

*$FDCP(i) = SDP + 182 * (i-1)$, where*

SDP – start date of placing of the Exchange-traded Bonds, established in accordance with item 8.2 of the Program and Terms of the issue;

i - the identification number of the corresponding coupon period (i=1,2,3...6);

FDCP(i) - final date of i-coupon period.

The calculation of the payout for each i-th coupon per one bond is as follows:

*$CY_i = C_i * Nom * (FDCP(i) - SDCP(i)) / (365 * 100\%)$,*

CY_i - the coupon yield size under each Exchange-traded bonds for the i-th coupon period in rubles of the Russian Federation;

Nom – the nominal value of one Exchange-traded bond in rubles of the Russian Federation;

C_i - the interest rate for the i-coupon, percent per annum;

SDCP(i) - starting day of i-coupon period.

FDCP(i) - final date of i-coupon period.

i - the identification number of the corresponding coupon period (i=1,2,3...6);

CY is calculated to the second decimal place (rounding to the second digit after comma is made according to the rules of mathematical rounding: if the third sign after the comma more or is equal 5, the second sign after the comma increases per unit, in case the third sign after the comma is less 5, the second symbol after comma is not changed).

The interest rate under the first coupon shall be equal to 10,35% per annum of the nominal value of commercial papers.

The interest rate for each coupon period from the second to the sixth set equal to the interest rate under the first coupon.

9.4. The order and term of payment of yield on bonds

Commercial papers have 6 (Six) coupon periods.

The coupon yield under Exchange-traded Bonds, accrued for each coupon period, paid on the end date of the respective coupon period.

The final date of each coupon period is determined by the formula:

*$FDCP(i) = SDP + 182 * 1$, where*

SDCP(i) - starting day of i-coupon period.

i - the identification number of the corresponding coupon period (i=1,2,3...6);

FDCP(i) - final date of i-coupon period.

The procedure for payment of yield on bonds:

Payment of the coupon income under commercial papers is produced by money funds in currency of the Russian Federation in a cashless order.
